COME TASTE THE WATER

Georgia Penney, of Newington Junior School, joins MPs Roger Gale and Dr Stephen Ladyman at Southern Water's new Weatherlees Hill treatment plant. FULL STORY - SEE PAGE 2

■ BY TOM BETTS

THANET has been dragged into a European legal action over waste water cleanliness.

Last week European commissioners launched a case against the Government over waste water standards in Broadstairs, Margate and seven other UK towns – six months after standards had apparently been met in Thanet.

The cleanliness of water released into the sea from Broadstairs and Margate had been below European regulations for 16 years, but Southern Water brought the standard up to scratch in April.

News of the legal action comes as Southern Water's water treatment plant was opened at the Weatherlees Hill wastewater treatment works near Minster on Friday.

MPs Roger Gale and Dr Stephen Ladyman and children from Ramsgate's Newington Junior School were on hand to do the honours.

Richard Ashworth, European MP for south-east England, has cried foul over the action.

He says it is now pointless for the names of the two towns to be dragged into the matter and has called for a stay of execution now the situation has been rectified.

He said: "To their credit, Margate and Broadstairs have taken action and complied with the directive.

"The people of Thanet are doing all the right things and it would be unfair for the towns to get clobbered just for being a month behind schedule, especially as Brighton hasn't even passed the start line and rejected the proposals at planning stage."

"In Margate and Broadstairs, the completion of the new environmental improvement scheme will bring up to scratch the water treatment facilities in one of the few towns in the UK that currently

New road that could end jams at Westwood

■ BY TOM BETTS

A HUGE road-building project to ease congestion at Westwood starts next month.

Aimed at alleviating traffic problems in the area, the £4 million project could be completed in 11 months after Thanet council's announcement of the scheme this week.

Some 1,300 homes are planned to be built in the area, but the Conservative-led council says that, when completed, the new road should provide better access to the Marlowe Academy, Eurokent business park and the forthcoming athletics track.

The road should also free up Stirling Way, whose residents suffer from heavy traffic during peak times.

The council stresses that the project will come at no extra cost for taxpayers as the scheme to create a new Haine Road is funded jointly by Thanet council and the county council, who have formed a limited-liability partnership for the project.

In a separate scheme, funded by developer Gleeson Homes, nearby Star Lane and Nash Road will also be widened, with better access for pedestrians.

The road work must be carried out before the builder can start work on new homes.

Council leader Sandy Ezekiel said that when the Tories took over the council in 2003 the pot for such schemes was empty.

PLEASED: Thanet council's Sandy Ezekiel

He said: "There were plans, but no funding and no prospect of funding.

"Despite Haine Road being in the constituency of MP Dr Stephen Ladyman, a transport minister, indications were that we would have to wait until at least 2015 for central government to come up with funds.

"Thanks are due to hard work by members and officers at both TDC and KCC, who have worked to get this solution created.

"For the Westwood housing roads, these play an essential role in flowing traffic to and from the houses, but also will provide a second route for traffic to or from Margate.

"Timing is in the hands of the developers, but we are hopeful they will want to start work as soon as possible."

Work begins to clear silt build-up in harbour

THE dredging of Ramsgate's harbour has begun.

Parts of the marina are being dredged so Thanet council can see what results are achievable before IT asks for tenders for a programme due to start early next year.

The Merlin is the ship carrying out the initial work.

The dredging follows complaints from Ramsgate fishermen, who protested at the silt build-up by holding a party on the sands that have built up in the harbour.

Cllr Roger Latchford, cabinet member for culture and economy, said: "Ramsgate Royal Harbour marina is a real jewel in Thanet's crown.

"Not only is it a major facility for our leisure and tourism industry, but it is also home to the area's fishing business. I made a promise this problem would be addressed and work is now under way.

"The first thing we need to do is ensure the new dredging contract is going to provide value for money for council taxpayers and that's what the trial is all about.

"We have already identified the funds in the budget to ensure that we can provide an improved and more efficient service in the future, and we are confident that we can deliver a programme that will meet the needs of all our harbour users."

Empty buildings hunt

FIREARMS officers are looking for empty buildings to practise hostage rescue and other training exercises.

Kent Police train their armed officers in empty houses, warehouses, schools and hospitals.

If you would like to volunteer a property, please phone PC Timothy Ryton on 01622 654878.

falls below the requirements of European law. I will be writing to the European Commissioner for the environment to update him on these improvements and invite him to visit the new facilities himself."

Waste water from the two towns will now be pumped along an 11-kilometre pipeline to undergo a treatment process using ultra-violet disinfection to clean the water. This is then released back out to sea at Foreness Point via a second parallel pipe. Seventy million litres of waste water can be treated every day.

The EU Waste Water Treatment Directive of 1991 states that towns with populations of more than 15,000 people must have facilities to deal with waste water that contains high levels of nutrients from sewage and industrial waste. In January 2007, the European Court of Justice ruled that 13 towns did not meet requirements of its directive. However, Southern Water's work means it will now be cleaner than river water before it is pumped out to sea.

A Southern Water spokesman said: "We're pleased to have completed this important scheme. It is already bringing benefits to the Thanet coast."

Wanted: new owner to run tiny landmark Theatre has £255k price tag

THE CURTAIN is coming down at The Tom Thumb Theatre – for the time being at least.

Owner Sarah Parr-Byrne has decided to sell up after more than 20 years at the helm of the Cliftonville institution.

The death of her mother, Leslie, with whom she used to run the theatre, has helped Sarah decide to move on and the famous 60-seat theatre is now on the property market with Cooke and Co estate agency in Broadstairs.

A price tag of £255,000 has been put on the building, which has planning permission for a second-bedroom extension.

The theatre was described by Ms Parr-Byrne as one of the smallest public licensed theatres in the country.

She said: "My mother died last March and it was something we did together."

"It was our dream to have our own theatre and I don't really want to carry on without her, to be honest with you.

"We achieved our dream, made the theatre famous and I'm sad, but it's one of those things – life has to move on."

"I have a lovely flat above it where my mother lived, too."

Ms Parr-Byrne and her mother ran the theatre, originally built in 1896 as a coach house, from 1984, overseeing its conversion to The Tom Thumb.

She said: "We had some great times here and I hope it will continue as a theatre, but I have to be realistic and have put it up for sale."

"There is an offer from somebody who would like to keep it as a theatre, but until there's money on the table then it's still on the market."

"It would be great if the theatre could carry on in some way, and perhaps someone will carry on so it could be curtain up again."

• The sale of The Tom Thumb may be a blow to Thanet's theatre world, but Will Wollen, artistic director of Theatre Royal Margate, revealed that ticket sales have been going promisingly since its relaunch gala.

He said: "It's been going well, ticket sales have been very good and I've been very surprised."

"We've had a lot of positive feedback and in general the audiences have been very happy. We've had a variety of shows and the reception has been great."

"The Canterbury Festival shows did really well – we had some fantastic audiences for that."

"So it shows that there are people who are prepared to make the trip – we just have to keep them coming over."

A page-turner

A NEW book tracing Margate's colourful seaside history has been released.

Margate's Seaside Heritage, by Allan Brodie, is published by English Heritage.

The book takes a look at the town's historic buildings and seaside architecture and also discusses the town's future and regeneration.

The author said: "Margate has a bright future. The architecturally distinctive old town is providing a great inspiration to artists and is really buzzing."

"This is attracting creative, talented people who are helping to boost the town's desirability."

Arts fearful of Olympic effect

THANET'S arts organisations fear their funding could be cut as public money is diverted to the London Olympics.

An announcement about the future of the cash that enables arts groups to operate was made in Chancellor Alistair Darling's recent spending review.

Although he announced £50 million extra for the Arts Council, groups are fearful a financial squeeze has begun and say money will be taken from the National Lottery pot over the next few years and directed to the Olympics.

The Sarah Thorne Theatre Club's Michael Wheatley-Ward said: "I think we will get into an economical problem in this country with lack of Government funding for things due to London 2012."

"I'm sure it will have a knock-on effect on the arts world."

"We've always been the poor relation of sport and I fear that it will get tighter and tighter, I'm afraid. This is why our group wants to exist without that funding if we can."

Claudia Leaf, outreach director at the Channel Theatre Company

in Margate, was another who expressed concern.

She said: "The money that is put into the lottery pot, which funds so much of what we do, is being redirected to the Olympics and we are being told very spurious things like when the land being used for events is sold after 2012 the money will be put back in."

"We always get told 'everything will be all right' – but everything won't be all right because all the projects that are running or have been running will now find it so much more difficult or even impossible to find funding, so being squeezed further is something we all fear."

Ms Leaf says the £50m funding announcement was little more than smoke and mirrors as the sum is only at the rate of inflation – and not the massive cash injection reported by some.

"Taking money out of the lottery pot will affect so many projects that have built up and ones that try to start."

"They can't just scoop money out of the small regional organisations and expect them to carry on."

MP's petition for Euro referendum

THANET NORTH MP Roger Gale has launched a parliamentary petition.

The MP is encouraging his constituents to sign the petition to put pressure on the Government to call for a referendum of the European Constitutional Treaty.

He said: "It's clear that the demand for the electorate to have a say in this vital issue is very considerable indeed.

"I expect thousands of constituents to sign up to this.

"I am additionally circulating the details to parliamentary colleagues in the hope that they will also take up this campaign."

The petition has been launched after the MP received a large amount of public correspondence on the matter.

He said: "There are a number of media petitions running, but so far as I am aware this is the first and only one drafted for presentation to Parliament.

"I still believe that it may be possible, by sheer force of numbers, to compel Brown to hold the promised referendum."

Ready to be afraid? Margate people reveal their scariest films

RESPECTING ITS SURROUNDINGS

So here it is – the Turner Contemporary as designed by architect David Chipperfield.

It's possible that one day – when the hordes of art-loving visitors descend upon Margate – the events leading up to last week's grand announcement will be forgotten.

As the whole project descended into near-farce, Margate's name was dragged through the mud yet again. But now it seems we really can believe in it – and local people are keen for the project to succeed.

Margate artist Lou Sexty said: "I think it's a really exciting and inspiring building. I offer my congratulations.

"I really think he [David Chipperfield] has got it right. I was concerned that he would err on the side of caution in terms of utilising the light, which Turner called the best in Europe, but he hasn't.

"People will be inspired by the fantastic vistas the gallery will offer. This will generate so much interest in Margate."

Harry Scobie, a member of Margate Civic Society, added: "Everyone seems to be very impressed with it.

"The last one was a rather brutal design. It was too industrial, but this really fits in with the surroundings."

Turner gallery design unveiled to acclaim

■ BY TOM BETTS

"We struggled with what to clad the building in but chose this glass," he said.

"It will glow in sunlight and glisten on the wettest of days. It will work as much at night as during the day."

The project's budget is based on grants of £4 million from the Arts Council, with a similar sum coming from Seeda.

A further £3 million will come from the fund-raising trust, which has raised some £250,000 from the private sector already.

Requirements

Although the grants are not yet secure, Mike Hill, of Kent County Council, said: "Provided the business plans we submitted meet their requirements there's every likelihood we shall get the funding.

"I'm very positive and confident we shall do so. Both organisations have been supportive.

"We submitted our draft business plan three weeks ago and we put in a final plan before Christmas and hope to hear not long into the new year as to the success of those plans.

AFTER what has seemed an almost interminable wait, people in Thanet finally know what Margate's Turner Contemporary building is going to look like.

Award-winning architect David Chipperfield unveiled his vision for the £17.4 million project at Theatre Royal Margate last week.

The building will take on a striking form of six interlocking rectangles with sloping triangular roofs.

It will be clad in recycled white glass and offer panoramic views from balconies and windows looking north.

A new plaza will be created for when the building opens in 2010.

The design was lauded by guests who attended a special unveiling ceremony on Tuesday last week.

Taking to the stage for his presentation, Mr Chipperfield said: "This must become an important public building.

"We have to confront the issues that it's not an exclusive but an inclusive building."

He admitted that finding the right material to clad the building had been a challenge.

"It's a realistically achievable programme and we are on course for a 2010 completion."

The previous design for the Turner centre by Snohetta and Spence was abandoned after costs spiralled to more than £50 million.

The authorities involved were criticised for wasting millions of pounds.

Thanet North MP Roger Gale praised the design but added that there was still a lot of work to do: "Those of us who are elected members at district, county and parliamentary level have to play our part.

"The car parking and the regeneration of the old town and the high street and the provision of mundane facilities such as public lavatories require detailed attention if we are to create a destination resort that is user-friendly for visitors and residents alike."

He added: "David Chipperfield has created the jewel – it is up to us to create the appropriate setting."

Clive Hart, Labour councillor at County Hall for Margate and Cliftonville, said: "The wasted years and millions are totally unforgivable – if only the county council had engaged David Chipperfield as the preferred architect from the very beginning."

NHS trust receives an honest 'weak' rating

THE Eastern and Coastal Kent Primary Care Trust has been given a 'weak' rating in a health check after failing to meet standards of care and missing national targets.

The Trust – which covers Thanet, Canterbury, Dover, Shepway, Ashford and Swale – was given the damning grade by the Healthcare Commission, the service watchdog.

The rating came in the 'quality of services' category, which looks into key standards such as safety, governance and clinical and cost-effectiveness, as well as in national targets.

Eastern and Coastal Kent PCT was deemed 'weak' in new national targets and had 'not met' core standards.

The only positive came in a 'fair' rating in the 'use of resources' category, which looks at how well the organisation manages finances.

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

A spokesman for the trust said: "We believe the report on our performance reflects an accurate picture of the situation in March this year."

"The assessment was made soon after the new PCT was established following the merger of five former PCTs."

"A large part of the annual health check is based upon self-assessment. At that time the PCT board members were unable to put hands on hearts and declare complete satisfaction that all standards of set targets were being met."

"In fact in some cases they were saying 'ask us again next month and we could answer yes in all honesty'."

"As a result of this accurate and honest assessment the PCT has been able to put into place a comprehensive and effective action plan to address the situation."

"The organisation is confident that when they are next assessed the extent of the work which has been done to ensure our patients get good-quality, safe services will be recognised."

Dartford and Gravesham NHS Trust posted the best results in Kent, receiving 'good' and 'fair' ratings in the 'quality of services' and 'use of resources' categories respectively.

Medway PCT received two 'fair' gradings, while crisis-ridden Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust was handed two 'weak' ratings.

This trust was heavily criticised by the health watchdog in this month's damning report into the death of 90 patients from the superbug Clostridium difficile.

Nationally, the figures showed an overall improvement in the NHS.

Forty-six per cent of the 394 NHS trusts nationwide received an 'excellent' or 'good' rating in 'quality of service', up from 41 per cent last year.

Pensioners get say on community centre

DEATH TRAP CLOSED DOWN

A house that was targeted during a blitz on anti-social behaviour in Cliftonville has been described as a "ticking time bomb" by Thanet council. The house at 276 Northdown Road, which comprises six flats over three floors, was closed by council officers during the crackdown. They issued a Housing Act Section 43 order, with residents shifted to emergency accommodation.

Electrical rewiring work had been botched or only half-finished, and residents were at risk of fire and electrocution. Exposed wires were twisted into connections and there were trailing cables and leads throughout the property. Live wires were also exposed and earth wires disconnected. There were no fire precautions throughout the property. Anyone who occupies the building or allows it to be occupied while the order is in place could face prosecution and a fine of up to £5,000.

Black-and-white planning decision on application for chessboard flats

THE brakes have been applied to the building of a block of flats in Broadstairs.

Planning councillors overwhelmingly voted on Wednesday to reject plans to knock down Hamilton Lodge in Bishops Avenue and build flats on the site as it would be out of keeping with the area.

Hundreds of residents and townspeople objected to the demolition of the house.

The main complaints were on the grounds that the new building would not fit in with the so-called chessboard area of town that contains roads such as Castle Avenue,

Queens Avenue, Knights Avenue and Kings Avenue.

Ewen Cameron is ward councillor for the area. He said: "I am delighted by the planning committee's decision."

"It was a totally unsuitable application which would have ruined the character of this end of the chessboard."

"It is the second project in my ward of this type I have fought this year."

"We must preserve the character of Broadstairs, and this case shows the benefits of a robust local plan."

MP launches children's road safety campaign

STEPHEN LADYMAN has launched a campaign to help children be seen on the roads.

The Thanet South MP, a long-time advocate of road safety, was on hand to launch the Nationwide Cat's Eyes Campaign.

He said: "With the return of long winter nights, our children face greater risks on our roads and it's important to remember the importance of basic road safety and the message 'Be safe, be seen'."

Safety kits containing reflectors will be issued to children through their schools.

Sex attack on the beach

POLICE sealed off part of Margate beach after a reported sex attack on a woman.

Officers launched an investigation after a 23-year-old was attacked on the beach near Marine Terrace in the early hours of Thursday.

A spokeswoman said: "We are talking to a man in connection with this - no arrests have been made."

Drains down to county

YOURTHANET would like to point out that Kent County Council, not Thanet District Council, is responsible for the maintenance of the drains in Ramsgate town centre.

We wrongly reported that it was TDC's responsibility in last week's story 'Flooding is a drain on our businesses' and apologise for any confusion caused.

QUESTION & ANSWER

STEVE KREEGER

QA

Tom Betts meets Steve Kreeger, the man behind Ramsgate's Pie Factory Music who spends his days helping people find their feet in the music industry – he's also learning how to be a dad!

Q Who or what brings you to Thanet, Steve?

A I work for Pie Factory Music in Ramsgate managing a programme of free workshops for young people and a course based around the music industry and starting your own record label.

Q Whereabouts in Thanet do you spend most of your time?

A At work most of the time, which is in St Lawrence, Ramsgate. I also travel around the area when I visit various workshops across Thanet or when we visit schools to run projects or programmes in the schools.

Q Did you grow up here?

A No. I grew up in east London and moved to Kent in 2002. I miss the opportunity of almost everything at your access point so easily in London, but I love the coast. I don't think I could move back.

Q Tell me a little about your job.

A I manage the programme of events and workshops for Pie Factory Music, as well as the staff who run those workshops. I also manage and co-ordinate a course called Starting In

The Music Industry, which is designed to give young people aged 16-19 a launchpad into the music industry in a variety of ways. We are soon to be opening the course up to anyone aged over 16.

Q What do you like about Thanet?

A Thanet has so much potential – you can see it in people, in businesses, in the landscape and community. I love being part of Thanet in what I do and having the opportunity to help in releasing that potential. I like the idea that Thanet is developing itself in many ways and that the local authority consults the people of Thanet about significant changes in the community.

Q Are there any aspects of the area you dislike?

A The roads in and out of Thanet! At peak times, there's often a real delay. I'm aware of the development on the way to Sandwich, but I think that more should be done to open up Thanet's access roads for more weight of traffic.

Q What can you do to help improve the fortunes of Thanet?

A I feel my job enables me to do that to a good level. One of our main focus points as Pie Factory Music is to give opportunities for young people to have access to music and arts-related workshops that can add to quality of life. Young people are the future, and investment into them is vital to the development of any area.

Q What do you like to do in your spare time?

A I DJ and produce music, although after having a baby in January, I've had more of my time taken up learning how to be a dad. I wouldn't swap that for DJ-ing any day, though.

Q Tell me your views on the future for the area?

A To see all areas of Thanet become viewed in the same light. There are currently areas that people don't feel they 'like'. Thanet is Thanet and covers all areas. I would love for stories to be heard of engagement between Margate and Ramsgate people and communities, and a spread of equal opportunity to get involved in things together.

Q What changes would you like to see happen in Thanet over the next few years?

A I'd like to see an IKEA built in Thanet and a multi-agency/business facility building where young and old can use it together and which houses various business and community needs such as mini hospital/doctors/pharmacy/café/restaurants/youth café/etc.

Ali's bedroom grilling on air by TV star Kyle

INVICTA FM presenter Ali Wheeler has been given a spicy grilling by Jeremy Kyle, one of the country's toughest talk show hosts.

Kyle now has his own slot on Invicta FM – the first was broadcast on Saturday – and he celebrated by giving Ali and co-host James Heming a taste of the full-on style which has made his TV show so popular.

Kyle's show on ITV1 is one of the nation's most popular, dealing with family and relationship issues, and bringing all parties together on screen – often with some explosive results.

He also looks at the everyday issues which affect our lives – and has won a clutch of awards for his way of resolving problems.

The 42-year-old presenter asked Ali: "Is it true your husband sleeps in another room during the week."

"Look at me, tell me."

Ali – who has confessed to being such a fan that she tapes Kyle's show when she can't see it live, said: "We sleep separately. He'd get in at midnight and wake me – I'd get up at 4.30am and wake him. It was causing arguments."

"So we sleep in separate rooms during the week, but come Friday and Saturday nights it's brilliant."

Jeremy replied: "Maybe that's the way to go." The chat show presenter said he was celebrating getting back into radio as James Heming had given him his first job – and he remembered trips to Whitstable to sample the town's oysters.

"Kent's close to my heart," said Kyle. "After

■ BY NICK AMES

10 years of late-night phone-ins and TV I want to just have fun. Just do it – let it flow. Radio is close to my heart."

Ali then explained how much of a fan of Kyle's work she was.

She said: "You shout at people, give them a roasting, then say 'Get off my stage!'. I go weak at the knees when you say that."

Ali added she was "slightly star-struck" at meeting Kyle and asked him: "What's one thing that's really shocked you?"

Kyle replied: "I can't answer that. This year there has been lots of talk about people getting angry during the show."

"But we try to help – for some people there is no counselling available to them and we act as a kind of last resort."

"But earlier this year we went to Kent to work with kids under the age of five – all of them have Aids and all of them are going to die."

"It was heartbreaking but the most inspirational thing I have ever done."

Jeremy's on-air career began in 1996 presenting an evening show on Invicta FM. Less than a year later, he was hosting his own show on BRMB. It was at BRMB that he won a Sony Award for Jezza's Jukebox, which preceded another big success, Jezza's Late & Live show.

Two and a half years and a nomination for CRCA's Presenter of the Year later, Jezza's Confessions was broadcast on the Century Network.

• Jeremy Kyle will be on Invicta FM every Saturday from 10am to midday.

War vets help to launch this year's Poppy Appeal

FALKLANDS WAR veterans will be honoured by the Royal British Legion when they launch their annual Poppy Appeal tonight.

Civic leaders and military commanders from across Kent will gather at County Hall in Maidstone for the ceremony.

County council chairman Leyland Ridings will officially launch this year's Poppy Appeal.

To mark the 25th anniversary of the conflict, the first of this year's poppies will be presented to three Falklands veterans from Kent: Steve Anstee, Keith Broome and Steve Tuffen.

War widow Margaret Finch will also be presented with a poppy.

After the presentation all civic and military guests will buy poppies to get the fund-raising rolling.

A rising number of ex-servicemen and women who have fallen on hard times have needed to approach the legion for help.

Last year alone the legion in Kent helped more than 500 people and this year the number has already reached 650.

A spokesman said: "The need for the legion's support is constantly growing, so the Poppy Appeal is as important now as it ever has been."

Tired drivers asking to be stopped by traffic police

SHATTERED foreign lorry drivers are asking police to arrest them so they can get food and sleep.

The revelations have come from the National Roads Policing Intelligence Forum, which monitors traffic nationwide.

Officers said the drivers dial 999 and tell them their location and registration. They then ask to be taken off the road as they feel they pose a danger to other road users.

Kent's two main highways – the M2 and M20 – are among the most used by Continental haulage companies, many of whom are willing to overwork drivers and care little about safety concerns.

Chief Superintendent Geraint Anwyl said: "They don't dare to stop at a service station, so they call us from their cab. They say: 'I have been driving for many hours. Please stop me because I'm dangerous. If you do, I promise I'll never work for this company again.'"

Be prepared for going off the rails with Nintendo Wii

WE have four copies of top new video game Thrillville: Off the Rails for the Nintendo Wii console to give away.

Featuring some of the most outlandish rollercoaster concepts ever imagined, it builds on the success enjoyed by the original Thrillville game.

Off the Rails, by Frontier Developments, is unleashed this month and includes new ways to talk to park guests and a wider array of carnival games.

The game will be available in the shops for the Xbox 360, PlayStation2, PSP, PC and Nintendo DS, in addition to the Wii.

Off the Rails lives up to its name with 20 death-defying rides so outrageous that they inspire the same word from every park visitor who sees them: "Whoa!"

Players build these incredible 'Whoa Coasters' to leap from one track to another, launch through the air like cannonballs, blast through burning rings of fire and more.

A new light-hearted story ties together more than 100 missions, complete with 34 playable multi-player theme-park games.

Jim Ward, president of LucasArts – the company behind the game – said: "Between its amazing new Whoa Coasters, improved socialisation and a huge selection of minigames, Thrillville: Off the Rails is practically three great games in one."

To enter, simply answer the question below and send your entry on a postcard, along with your email address (if applicable), name, address and daytime telephone number to Thrillville Comp, KOS Media, Apple Barn, Smeeth, Ashford, Kent TN25 6SR. Closing Date is November 21, 2007.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living on the Isle of Thanet...

Stop gambling on art and invest in some real jobs

ART studios, bars and restaurants on the Margate harbour arm... opening in February... with the waves crashing over the top... patrons and their cars getting covered in seawater, salt spray and sand...

Come on, get a grip on reality!

But, looking on the bright side, when the diners in Margate's brave new arty world get washed over the harbour wall, they can text the proposed harbour wall LED light show to flash SOS and get rescued.

It is reported that £35 million has already been spent in two years to regenerate Margate.

Oh please! Where has that amount of money gone in Margate town?

Derek Harding, the programme director of the Margate Renewal Partnership, has said that "Margate is on the verge of an economic and cultural revolution" and asked "Why can't Margate rival world class-cities like Milan?".

In readiness for this seismic shift in the town's future, he plans on "creating artists' studios and galleries" in the old town.

Sorry, but Margate needs investment in REAL businesses and REAL jobs – not just subsidised arty 'New Age' projects.

Don't get me wrong, there's nothing wrong with art... but £35 million! That's a lot of cash spent before a brick is laid at the new centre.

The Turner centre has wasted enough public money already, both Thanet's and Kent's.

Remember the sail-shaped building attached to the harbour? It was meant to test the paint, but it fell into the sea within a couple of days.

You could have asked anyone who lives or works on a seafront what would happen – don't spend our millions on studies that are painfully obvious to anyone. Anyone without a PhD in architecture, that is.

Now for a solution. Along with every other brand name in our town centre's shopping streets, Grosvenor Casino is heading to Westwood Cross, too, which will leave the magnificent Royal Victoria Pavilion on Ramsgate seafront empty.

This building is already owned by Thanet council, so here's a thought: abandon the expensive Turner project in Margate and put the exhibition in the soon-to-be-vacated historic pavilion. What better environment could you have? And we, the people of Thanet, own it.

Ask the Grosvenor Casino nicely and they'll probably leave the carpets and light bulbs.

TALK TIME

TOM CARLIER

The director of rugby at Thanet Wanderers Rugby Union Football Club on a sad weekend

How are you feeling after England's World Cup final defeat?

People rarely remember who came second in a World Cup, but it was encouraging that the squad did so well. The final was somewhat disappointing; with two strong packs and both teams having an uncompromising flat-line defence, the chances of expansive rugby were very limited.

Did you and the rugby club members drown your sorrows?

Some of the guys were at the match and the words 'a bit fluffy' were mentioned about the morning after. The rest of us rushed back from playing and watched the game at the club. There was a mix of people, some South Africans and other nationalities who were backing the Boks – it was a good evening. We drowned our sorrows and the overseas guys were happy to pay the bar bill!

Do you think rugby in the Thanet area is in a good or bad state?

Local rugby is strong, especially at junior and mini level. If you visit the club on a Sunday you cannot move for youngsters playing. For the last 10 years we have supplied coaches for schools to introduce rugby to schools where the sport was under-represented. This has led to almost every secondary school-playing rugby and, in conjunction with the Thanet Junior Schools Rugby Committee, we assist in coaching the local junior schools. Unfortunately the council grant we received has recently come to an end and we are looking for a sponsor to assist with this project.

YOUR LETTERS

Children and pubs just don't mix

Regarding last week's front-page article on children in pubs, I am in agreement with the decision of the Royal Albion in Broadstairs.

We have lost count of the number of meals and social occasions we have had ruined by parents allowing their children to treat pubs, bars and restaurants as playgrounds.

Jean Dubach

Depressing attitude towards babies

I was disgusted to read about Katy Goodship and her young baby Harry being asked to leave the Royal Albion in Broadstairs. Disgusted but not surprised – I have heard similar stories from other mums in the area regarding this particular establishment.

Katy was also a customer in the bar and, by the sounds of it, a long-standing one. If the person/persons who complained were unhappy, then they should have left. Babies cry – get used to it. We were all babies once and if baby Harry was as miserable as the complaining customer, then I'm surprised he didn't scream the place down.

What next? ASBOs for babies? Sadly, Katy, your friend is right – you will have to get used to it. We are living in what is possibly the most child-intolerant country in the world – and I know, I have been halfway round it with my son.

Unfortunately, your abilities as a parent are judged on your child's behaviour at that moment. If he is gurgling away happily (at

LETTER OF THE WEEK

My car was stolen, so why am I going to lose it because I can't pay the police bill?

The other night I had my car stolen from outside my house.

At about 01.10am the police phoned to inform me that it had been found and been taken for investigation. They would contact me when I could collect it.

On the Saturday afternoon they did just that and I was informed that my car had been taken to Lamberts at St Peters. I was given a crime scene number and contact number for collection.

When I phoned to get back my car, I was informed that I had to pay the costs before I could collect it.

I asked what these costs were as the car had been taken by the police – I was told that this was the normal course of events.

As an unemployed person looking for work, I really need the car back as in my line of work early starts are commonplace.

I could not afford the £120+ to retrieve it, so I told Lamberts of this and was more or less told: hard luck – pay up or lose it.

Why, as a victim of crime, do I have to pay?

I have been told by the police that this is a policy from their headquarters, and that my insurance will pay my costs, but I could only afford for the car to be insured third party, so I do not get any help there.

I am really angry about the fact that some idiots stole my car and I'm the one who has to pay for the morons that they are. Could someone please explain the police policy on stolen cars – and why the victim has to pay for their vehicle being stolen?

The police say it was for inspection, but as yet they have not asked who had been in the car or taken any fingerprints to eliminate us, so why was I not given the chance to pick the car up myself without all this hassle?

The car will now be scrapped as there is no way I can afford to get it back.

John M Colgate

No wonder our children are depressed.

It's dogs that are the real problem

As regards last week's article about a young mum and her baby being told to leave the Royal Albion, I have been going to the place for many years and have never had a problem with babies or children being there – and certainly do not think they should be barred.

However, I do have a big problem with the dogs allowed in the bar area – there surely is a health and safety issue here.

I have seen as many as five or six dogs in there at a time barking – surely worse than a baby crying. But what I find hard to tolerate is when the owners put food on the tables and let them eat it.

Tables are where food is served for customers. Some members of staff also make a fuss of the dogs and then serve me with food – as I said, surely a health and safety issue. After all, I do not know any other food establishment which allows dogs other than guide dogs.

This has been going on for years and I did hope that when Shepherd Neame took over the Royal Albion it would stop this.

So keep the babies and children – but bar the dogs!

Award Winning Company

Yourthanet's preview of the show Chicago at the Winter Gardens in Margate last month. On the strength of these comments I went to the show only to find that none of the people mentioned appeared.

The people who performed were those detailed on the poster picture shown with the article.

The seven-piece band numbered only four, and the music was supplemented by tapes.

The show wasn't bad, but I was embarrassed as I had encouraged friends to come along on the strength of the Yourthanet write-up. I felt I had been conned.

While I am writing, I found comments about the Ramsgate tandoori fire (Yourthanet, October 10) interesting.

Four people saved and six others got out on their own.

It must be a big flat that was destroyed to accommodate 10 people or more!

It's a wonderful life... but not over here

Autumn has arrived and leaves are falling right across Kent, but wealthier areas of west and mid Kent have no need to worry... as usual the county council is working hard to make its environment greener and even more pleasant for next year with thousands of free trees to help it tackle climate change.

Yes, while thousands of youngsters from wealthy areas are joyfully whizzing around Kent with a Freedom bus pass, mums and dads will be busy planting trees for their return home.

It's a wonderful life if you can get it. Unfortunately, thanks to the Tories at County Hall, our poorer Thanet residents simply don't.

Cllr Clive Hart (Labour)
KCC member for Margate and Cliftonville

Thanet being ignored by County Hall again

Kent County Council has ignored Thanet yet again. This time it is supporting a scheme that offers free trees to residents in Kent – unless they live in east Kent!

The initiative is promoted by the county council as part of its action on climate change and is partly funded by Network Rail.

For about 20 years, residents and community groups in some more affluent parts of Kent have been able to access up to 25 free trees, and in total this year they are expected to receive 10,000.

Surprisingly, in Thanet, where we need trees far more than the leafy suburbs of Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells, we cannot get any.

The scheme could be extended to cover all of Kent if the county council cared enough to make up the £8,000 shortfall.

Why should Thanet taxpayers miss out on county council schemes? Why do we not get the benefit of new initiatives, such as Telehealth and Telecare, designed to support the elderly and infirm in their own homes, and the Freedom bus pass for children?

I think everyone in Thanet should question why a Tory-controlled county council always gives to the rich and misses out the poorer taxpayers.

Cllr Elizabeth Green (Labour)
KCC member for Ramsgate

Tories are the ones concreting island

In reply to Cllr Ewen Cameron's comments on back-garden development, I would like to direct him to the change in planning law known as PPS3 passed last year whereby power has been handed to local government to decide what can be built and where.

The law states clearly that the local authority must take note of the effect of building on garden sites. The law also states that green spaces and play areas must be taken into account so any developer cannot build homes that crowd a site.

It is a pity that local Conservative politicians persist in their mantra that gardens come into the same category as disused gasworks when quite clearly this is not the case.

Cllr Cameron also ignores the fact that Thanet council has set a voluntary target on house-building that exceeds that which the Government set – and, in fact, enough plans have been agreed to meet the 2011 housing target without another application being given planning permission.

The plans passed for Star Lane/Nash Road ensure that not another house needs to be built beyond those agreed. Perhaps Cllr Cameron should encourage his colleagues to examine true brownfield sites when required.

Andrew Motion talks about his life as the Poet Laureate and the personal exploration he undertook in compiling his memoirs

HAVING a way with words is certainly helpful when trying to explain the role of the Poet Laureate.

Andrew Motion has held the title for more than eight years, yet still finds himself explaining the ancient role to both adults and children alike.

"It's a peculiar position and I try to shed light on it," he said. "I see myself as something of an ambassador for poetry – not just for my own work, but for the provision that is made for poetry in schools."

Audiences will have the chance to ask Motion about his appointment when he comes to Tunbridge Wells next month.

An Evening With Andrew Motion will feature readings of poems both old and new, as well as extracts from his latest book, In The Blood: A Memoir of My Childhood.

His youth was coloured by a tragedy that is touched upon a great deal in his memoir.

Born in London in 1952, Motion started writing at the age of 16, a time he describes as "the usual age" when people tend to start exploring their deepest emotions. But he had

AN EVENING WITH ANDREW MOTION

Thursday, November 15

Trinity Theatre, Tunbridge Wells

more to explore than most, when his mother suffered a terrible riding accident and fell into a 10-year coma.

Despite the wealth of material available to him through memories and anecdotes, the poet found In The Blood to be one of his most difficult projects. But he believes the episodic nature of poetry can help people tap into, and deal with, some experiences concisely.

He said: "Poetry can help because people see it as a hotline to their strongest emotions."

"There's a lot about my mother's accident in the memoir. There's a sense that it's an inexhaustible subject and sometimes it seeps into other things, things that might not have anything to do with it."

In his high-profile role as Poet Laureate, Motion is entrusted with recording the nation's mood for posterity – a daunting task, even for the professor of creative writing at Royal Holloway, University of London.

He said: "A lot of commissioned work is very difficult because you have to triangulate your own feelings about things with the public perception of them."

"I feel a lot more under scrutiny when writing as the Poet Laureate and it has a different readership to my other work."

"If it's about a public or royal event then my poems are part of the news story at the time. I feel it needs to connect with people, but I do have a feeling of responsibility, especially when writing about a royal event."

He is aware that the Royal Family might not enjoy the same popularity it did many years ago, but still believes that poems about royalty can be meaningful for the country as a whole.

"There are a lot of republicans who will not find it very interesting, but otherwise I feel a duty to encapsulate what the public are feeling," he said. "I think I have to approach each issue as an individual, with the hope that it will find a wider echo."

The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £15/£13. To book, call the box office on 01892 678678 or visit the website at www.trinitytheatre.net.

THE issue of global warming will be tackled in unique fashion by Forkbeard Fantasy in its surreal new show.

Invisible Bonfires explores apocalyptic topics such as the Evolution of the Carbon Weevil and the FairyAngel Conundrum, using Forkbeard's trademark mix of live stage action and film sequences.

The theatre and film company has been pioneering the technique since the mid-1970s, along with wild mechanical sets, outside characters and special effects. Its productions have toured all over the UK and appeared at festivals as far afield as Europe, Mexico, Colombia, Poland and Canada.

With special guests Mammon and Pan and live music from The Lotus Pedals, the

CENTRAL BAND OF THE ROYAL BRITISH LEGION

Sunday, November 4
Winter Gardens, Margate

THIS autumn's military band concert will be performed by the Central Band of the Royal British Legion.

It will be the first time the legion's flagship band has performed at the Winter Gardens, but it is no stranger to high-profile events, many of them televised. It has taken part in the Royal British Legion Festival of Remembrance at the Royal Albert Hall and in the BBC's Songs of Praise.

Sporting engagements have included Wimbledon and Lords, and in 2005 the band joined the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra for an 'end of war' commemoration concert, in which it performed world premieres written by the Master of the Queen's Music, Sir Peter Maxwell Davies.

Since March last year, Captain David Cole, from Kingsdown, has been the band's director of music. He had previously held the same title with the Royal Marines.

The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £8, £9 and £10. To book, phone Cinque Port Music on 01304 362181 or the Winter Gardens box office on 01843 292795/296111, or visit www.margatewintergardens.co.uk.

THE RAGGED TROUSERED PHILANTHROPISTS

Saturday, November 10
Memorial Theatre, Broadstairs

THE suffering of lowly workers in genteel Edwardian society is revealed in The Ragged Trousers Philanthropists.

Adapted by Philip Dart from Robert Tressell's acclaimed novel, the story follows the plight of a team of builders and decorators as they struggle to survive on the breadline.

Despite focusing on the powerful human stories in the novel, there is also plenty of humour in this Chalkfoot Theatre Arts production as the tricks and scams of the tight-fisted bosses are revealed.

The performance starts at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £9 for members of the Sarah Thorne Theatre Club and £11 for non-members, who must book their tickets at least 24 hours before the performance. To book, phone 0845 2626 263, or email info@sarahthorne-theatreclub.co.uk.

NANCY DREW (PG)

THE resourceful teen detective, Nancy Drew, leaves her friendly hometown of River Heights for the West Coast and enrolls at Hollywood High. There, her unique style immediately sets her apart from her self-absorbed, fast-living peers. It isn't long before Nancy gets the lead on one of the greatest unsolved cases of all time: the mysterious death of famous actress Dehlyra Draycott.

RENDITION (15)

THIS skilfully crafted thriller explores the unacknowledged US policy of reportedly detaining foreign nationals considered a threat to national security and interrogating them in secret overseas prisons. Starring Jake Gyllenhaal and Reese Witherspoon, there's an almighty narrative bombshell in the closing minutes which you don't see coming.

Beauty takes a beastly role

■ BY EILEEN CONDON

WITH her flawless complexion, sparkling blue eyes and lithe figure it's difficult to believe that actress Michelle Pfeiffer turns 50 next year.

Somewhere along the way she seems to have discovered the secret of eternal youth.

But far from being smug about her radiant looks, the down-to-earth actress says she's "horrified" at the current obsession with anti-ageing.

"It never fails to amaze me the lengths some women will go in order to retain their youth," she said. "And yet, there is a great myth that beautiful people lead beautiful lives. We all get hurt and damaged."

Fed up with Hollywood's preoccupation with image, the talented actress took a five-year break from making movies and concentrated instead on her favourite role – being mum to daughter Claudia Rose, 14, and son John Henry, 12, by her producer-writer husband David E Kelley.

"I didn't want to go back to work unless it was something really interesting," she said of her extended hiatus from the big screen. "I was enjoying being involved with the kids. There was a time I was just so busy with work."

"I was never home, calls didn't get returned. I was always off here there and everywhere, but then children come along and it takes you completely by surprise how deeply your love runs for them, so the challenge for me was to find something that could tempt me away from what I loved doing which was being a mum."

The popular actress seems to have found that very challenge with her new movie, the eagerly awaited Stardust, playing a deliciously wicked witch.

AGELESS: In her return to the silver screen actress Michelle Pfeiffer plays Lamia, a 5,000-year-old witch

"I thought if I don't do this I'm going to regret it and I certainly didn't want anybody else doing this part," she said.

Directed by Layer Cake's Matthew Vaughan and with a screenplay co-written by Jonathan Ross's wife Jane Goldman, the film boasts a stellar cast including Robert de Niro, Clare Danes, Ricky Gervais and Peter O'Toole.

It tells the enchanting tale of a beautiful fallen star (Danes) who crashes into the mythical kingdom of Stormhold where she finds love with young Tristan (Charlie Cox) and danger in the form of wicked witch Lamia, (Pfeiffer) hell-bent on stealing her youth and beauty.

Regularly voted one of the world's most beautiful women Michelle had to age 5,000 years in the film with the help of heavy prosthetics. The petite actress admits she was so alarmed by the final look she burst into tears.

"I went into the bathroom and cried," she said.

"It had taken six hours to apply the make up and it never occurred to me what that would feel like and the claustrophobia that would set in. My entire face and head and neck were encased in rubber and the only things left of me was the tip of my nose and my eyelashes. I panicked and thought 'How do I get out of this?'"

"It took more than an hour to get it off. They had to peel it off and it had to be done slowly because if they went fast it could lift a layer off your skin."

It looks as if the three times Oscar-nominated actress is back for good now. She's been inundated with new movie offers and her reputation as one of the industry's finest leading ladies has been set in stone – literally – as she's just been awarded her very own Hollywood Star on LA's prestigious Walk of Fame.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

ENCOURAGING friends to pursue their dreams is the best way to inspire loyalty. Applying for jobs or undergoing a career change is favoured. An authority figure admires your clear thinking. Changes to your financial situation could force you to cancel romantic plans. This week would be ideal to close on a house or end a lease.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

YOU could have a meeting of the minds with a romantic interest. A temper tantrum could embarrass you. Maybe the reason your loved one is acting up is because you're not listening to their concerns. Do something nice for yourself like getting a spa treatment or going clothes shopping. This is a good time to go on job interviews.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

A PENETRATING insight in to a child or lover's character results in a wonderful breakthrough. At long last, you've discovered why a certain subject or activity upsets this person. Having a heart-to-heart discussion with a relative clears the air. Resist the urge to go shopping in response to a nasty shock. You could get word about a job or promotion.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

WORKING behind the scenes could dramatically improve your financial prospects. Fortunately, you're not the type who basks in the spotlight. An idea for conserving the office's resources also boosts your reputation. A dangerous sport or hobby could worry your friends. Questions regarding a business partnership or love affair are answered.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

YOUR sex appeal wins lots of favourable attention this week. Making arrangements for a long-distance trip is favoured. Be vigilant about filing out an official form. Acting hot and cold with a lover will backfire. If this relationship is going to work you need to prove your reliability. You could finally hear news about a community matter.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

YOUR playful attitude attracts the attention of a magnetic love interest. It may be virtually impossible to resist this person's charms. Going back to a hobby or sport you enjoyed as a child could be fulfilling. An authority figure's erratic behaviour is starting to affect your home life. You may want to make more time for soothing activities.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

AN increased desire to make more money could prompt you to overcome some deeply imbedded behaviour. A simple shift in attitude could yield impressive results. Keep communications with a sibling or neighbour a secret for the time being. Being kind to a business associate or romantic partner could backfire.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

YOUR powerful personality makes you stand apart from the crowd. Don't be surprised if you're singled out as the most talented member of the group. Visiting old friends could become a trend between now and mid-November. Household disruptions could make it difficult to maintain a pleasant attitude at work.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

ROMANCE could find you at an advanced class or cultural organisation. If you're already in a relationship, you might want to take up a spiritual practice with your amour. Matters related to tax, insurance, or a will are highlighted this week. If you aren't confident about dealing with these tasks yourself, enlist the aid of a professional.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

THIS week affords a welcome opportunity to improve your health regimen. A flirtatious conversation makes you excited about the future. If you're already in a relationship, be sure to attend a party with your lover. Rearranging your household may be necessary, thanks to some unexpected lifestyle changes.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

BE forceful when stating your ideas to the crowd. People will be much more receptive to your proposals if you exude confidence. If you're due for a raise, this is the week to demand it. Sudden changes at work could move you to a secluded area of the office. An inheritance, refund, or grant might come your way.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

YOU'RE a lot stronger than rivals realise. Any attempts to discredit you will fall flat. If you're put in charge of a group, invite members to discuss their ideas. Being receptive to their concerns will make you a popular leader. Resist the urge to contradict a respected figure in public or it will look as though you feel threatened by their expertise.

Don't miss a thing with the new iPlayer service

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

THE BBC is launching a revolutionary new online catch-up service so viewers need never miss their favourite shows again.

The free iPlayer offers people the chance to download a range of programmes across the BBC channels on to their computer up to a week after transmission.

This will allow them to watch hit shows like Spooks, Strictly Come Dancing and Heroes any time they want.

Its producers say the beauty of the service is that viewers will not have to set any reminders, programme the Sky+, or insert DVDs or videos.

The only thing you have to do is remember the programme has been on up to a week after it aired and then get around to watching it in the following 30 days.

Ashley Highfield, director of future media, said: "BBC iPlayer is a free catch-up service for UK licence fee-payers.

"Your favourite programmes from all the BBC's network TV channels will be available to download over the internet and watch on your PC without advertising for up to a week after transmission."

Once a programme is downloaded, viewers will have up to 30 days in which to watch it.

After this period has expired, the programme file deletes itself, creating room for your next download.

The BBC is in discussion with a range of potential distribution partners, including MSN, telegraph.co.uk, AOL, Tiscali, Yahoo, MySpace, Blinkx and Bebo.

Mr Highfield said: "We are committed to making it as easy as possible to use BBC

UP-TO-DATE: Thanks to BBC's iPlayer service you'll never have to miss popular programmes such as BBC2's Heroes iPlayer. Developing a version for Apple Macs and Microsoft Vista is absolutely on our critical path. We're also committed to making it available on the television screen, which is why we are delighted to be working with Virgin Media towards a launch on cable later this year. We are hopeful that other TV platforms will follow soon after."

BBC iPlayer is currently being tested for technical gremlins, with a live date set for December.

In time, extra features will be added, such as streaming on demand, allowing users to watch a programme straight away; series stacking, which allows users to download episodes from selected series retrospectively; and the ability to catch up with radio shows you've missed.

The website allows viewers to browse for their desired programme in a number of ways – by the date it was aired, by category and via an A-Z search.

The only programmes which will not be available are those to which the BBC does not own the rights, such as sporting events.

The channels on offer for download are: BBC1, BBC2, BBC3, BBC4, CBBC, CBeebies, BBC News, BBC News 24 and BBC Parliament.

BBC iPlayer can be found at www.bbc.co.uk/iplayer.

The BBC's terrestrial rivals have launched their own versions of iPlayer, with ITV setting up Best of ITV, and Channel 4 bringing out 4oD, Video on Demand.

Best of ITV draws in viewers with classic episodes of Inspector Morse, Prime Suspect and Peak Practice, while Channel 4 gives viewers a 30-day archive and a pre-booking option.

Love life, love Normandy

■ BY DAVE MAIRS

IT was, for one brief but despairing moment, as wretched a start to a holiday as you could imagine.

The drive south-west from Dunkerque had been getting progressively gloomier until, by the time of our arrival in Normandy, the rain was heavy and the August temperature chillingly and depressingly low.

Worse, our gîte was empty, the shutters were down, we had no key – and the holiday looked over before it had begun.

Cue some of the Norman hospitality and friendliness that was to be such a feature of the forthcoming week. The problems in communication (our fault) were resolved by the neighbours, and within an hour we were inside, settled and upbeat if a little sorry that we had had to decline an invitation to what was clearly a bit of a party next door.

The warmth of the people was evident throughout our week, but sadly it was never matched by the weather. The rain was replaced occasionally by mere grey skies and gloom, but yet, despite the odd dropping of spirits, our holiday was delightful. Really!

We were based near Avranches in Normandy's La Manche department, which meant we were also within easy striking distance of Le-Mont Saint-Michel.

This World Heritage Site is a rocky island that hosts a monastery – it is a fantastic-looking place and accordingly attracts fantastic numbers of people. Too many people, if truth be told.

LE MONT SAINT-MICHEL: A World Heritage Site, but one that attracts an awful lot of camper-vans

As we finally reached the quagmire of a car park and its battalions of camper-vans, we pondered the reality of traipsing through cobbled streets among hundreds if not thousands of people in the driving rain with an 11-year-old girl who doesn't like walking and a 19-month-old toddler who likes pretty much anything but shouldn't have to put up with such miseries.

And so an about-turn it was. Thoughts of "When you've seen one cobbled street, you've seen them all" wandered across our minds and so we were away to the nearby Cimetière Militaire Allemand, "a unique German mausoleum in France", according to the bumph.

Having the place entirely to ourselves, this site at Mont de Huisnes, which holds the tombs of 11,956 German soldiers, is a solemn, moving place. As one of the inscriptions read, nationality means nothing when people are dying in battle. It's perhaps war's greatest irony.

And indeed the shadow of World War Two still hangs over Normandy, and a visit to one of the crux sites from this extraordinary period of European history was essential.

We chose Arromanches, the coastal town off which the Mulberry B harbour was put into place. This wonderful feat of engineering facilitated the landing of Allied troops on D-Day, and again you realise how poor your knowledge of those awful years is.

You can still see some of the harbour remnants offshore, while one of the highlights of the holiday was the visit to the Arromanches 360 cinema. Here you stand in the middle of a 'surround-screen' that shows film of the D-Day landings mixed with more peaceful contemporary scenes. Brilliant.

But Normandy is very far from a war museum. We also visited Granville, an undeniably characterful coastal resort and site of Christian Dior's home. Even the least fashion-conscious among us (me) couldn't resist a ramble through its grounds and indeed among some of Dior's most elegant designs in the building itself.

Our time in Normandy was, as ever, far too short. We managed to squeeze in a day among the quite beautiful forest of the Normandie-Maine National Park, a dip in the swimming pool at Villedieu-les-Poêles (if you're going to get wet, you might as well enjoy yourself) and a tour around a cider-making operation.

Travel pieces often finish lamely with an 'I'll be back' line. The trouble is, I will be back – if only to prove the sun can shine in Normandy. Also, purely and simply, I love the place.

Travel details

Dave Mairs and his family stayed at a gîte in La Chaise Baudouin, a hamlet near the small but lively town of Villedieu-les-Poêles. To learn more about holidaying in Normandy's beautiful La Manche department, you can visit www.manche-tourisme.com/medianet-uk.htm. From Kent, the easiest way of reaching Normandy is to take a ferry from Dover and drive south-west using France's excellent autoroute system. The journey of less than 300 miles takes just five to six hours.

DIY SOS: David Perrett, owner of Fixed Abode

Fixed Abode is there to help with little niggles

A NEW Kent company plans to make DIY a thing of the past for busy executives.

Fixed Abode has been set up by property consultant David Perrett, who recognises the frustration many people feel when faced with niggling problems such as blocked gutters and dripping taps – particularly after a hard day at the office.

His new venture is also geared up to help people who decide to move home and find they need an Energy Performance Certificate following the introduction of Home Information Packs at the beginning of August.

Fixed Abode provides a unique collection of benefits to homeowners, who can select from a range of annual maintenance packages.

Every package includes the Energy Performance Certificate that is now a legal requirement for home-sellers plus a Home Inspection Report carried out by one of the company's own experts.

"It's sad that many people spend more time worrying about their homes than enjoying them. And that's a pretty dismal state of affairs when you think how hard we all work to pay the mortgage," said Mr Perrett.

The service is web-based, with full information online at www.fixedabode.biz, or by phoning 0800 783 3986.

Affordable housing is not answer to property shortage

STRAIGHT TALKING: MP John Gummer spoke out at the Property Professionals Luncheon

Picture REX FEATURES

FORMER Environment Secretary John Gummer has called for affordable housing schemes to be abolished to allow more homes to be built in Kent.

The Tory MP was a guest speaker at the fourth annual Property Professionals Luncheon hosted by Clive Emson Auctioneers.

Almost 400 property experts from throughout the county listened to the speech at the Ramada Hotel in Hollingbourne on October 11.

Mr Gummer, 67, spoke passionately about a range of topics, including environmental housing, the shortfall of housing, and restructuring planning and building regulations.

He said: "We have an abiding interest – a very English fascination – with property.

■ BY JON COATES

"We get a feeling of comfort and security from it, we appreciate the concept of owning something of our own, a gratifying feeling.

"But we are now building fewer houses per annum since 1914. There is a shortage, a real shortage in all types of houses – full stop.

"The policy we need is to build homes, not restrict them by the dishonourable system of affordable housing."

The Suffolk Coastal MP stressed that the poorest people suffer most from not enough homes being built.

He called for the maximum number of homes possible to be built on sites without developers having to worry about meeting affordable housing requirements.

Mr Gummer suggested replacing building regulations with a system of objective standards which also meet environmental needs. He said developers should be told to build it to those standards or we pull it down.

With regard to planning laws he added: "Those who live on housing estates built after 1945 should do what they want."

He said arbitrators, not planners, should be sent in on modern estates to settle neighbourhood disputes on home extensions.

Mr Gummer called for the Government to sell off developable sites which they keep in case they need them in the future.

He also called for a government shift away from London to take the pressure off the South East.

"If you have a headquarters in England, the perception is you need to be in London.

"If Government relocated to, say, Preston, others would follow releasing the pressure on the South East. Government needs to be much more business-like."

Have you ever wondered...

why most Estate Agents don't advertise their fees....?

At Oakwood homes we believe in transparency – our fees are just 1.49% - ~~vat~~ INCLUDING your HIP

So, if an estate agent won't tell you their fees BEFORE they come to value, then they've probably got something to hide....?!

MOTORS NEWS

New Renault Laguna setting sights higher

RENAULT dealers in Kent are upbeat about prospects for the newly arrived third generation Laguna.

The French marque has given the car a quality hike to pitch it upmarket, in the hope of squeezing German compact executive models that have nibbled at the Laguna's market share.

There is also the promise of enhanced reliability to counter teething problems that did so much to harm early sales of the previous version.

Hatchback and Sport Tourer (estate) versions are offered, with the possibility of a 'halo' model to come; reaction to a Laguna Coupé concept has been so positive that Renault must build it.

Youth team benefits from dealer's support

GILLINGHAM'S Dagenham Motors has backed local youth football team Chatham Colts Athletic under-18s to the tune of £424 – the cost of rain jackets and kit bags – as part of its community support.

The team, established last season, is currently ninth in the third division of the under-18s Medway News Youth League.

Glen Millen, sales manager of the Pier Road-based Ford dealership (pictured presenting the kit) said: "We look forward to having a successful partnership with the club and wish them every success this season."

Mazda introduces new lean, mean '2'

KENT Mazda dealers are expected to triple their supermini sales following the launch this month of the sleek, lightweight, economical and low emission Mazda2 – radically different in style from its boxy predecessor.

The newcomer has proved to be an excellent drive and is well priced from £8,499.

There is also the prospect of a win-win situation for sites with the Mazda Zoom Zoom logo too, since the old car has found new popularity as a practical and reliable used buy.

GROWING PROBLEMS : Smart's fourtwo is the perfect city/shopping car and has been improved by its German manufacturer Daimler-Benz

Smart's little gem makes big strides to improve

A SMALL, but perfectly formed, little car arrived in 1998 to be hailed as the start of the fight back against urban congestion and pollution.

The two-seat smart city car or 'fourtwo' offered economy, good protection within a tiny body, funky two-tone looks and easy parking – it was so short, it could be parked at right angles to the kerb.

But the smart did not storm the world as brand owner Daimler-Benz had hoped and much is now expected of an all-new version.

Former F1 champ Niki Lauda was wheeled in for the launch event I attended and joined some orchestrated banter about the new car.

Lauda is now a top businessman in his native Austria and, through his car hire company, a major smart customer with strong views on what had to change.

"Ah, but we have done everything that you ask Niki, ha ha," was the gist of the response from the Daimler-Benz top brass onstage, with just a hint of gritted teeth and the fabled German humour by-pass.

ROAD TEST SMART FOURTWO

BY STEVE LOADER

STAR QUALITY

Driving appeal	★★★★★
Image	★★★★★
Space	★★★★★
Value	★★★★★
Running costs	★★★★★
Reliability	★★★★★
Green rating	★★★★★

Anyway, the car's compact, but raucous three-cylinder engine has been re-worked and refined.

The jerky gearbox is much better now when accelerating in fully auto mode, even if the short wheelbase still allows some pitching when the 'box shifts up, but it is small price to pay for the smart's convenience in stop-start town traffic. On the open road, manual selection is better.

Interior space is as good as ever; you feel you are in something larger, even if there are no rear seats.

It is arranged better and higher quality too – no more wobbly dashboard pods.

There is a proper boot now, with roll-top parcel shelf and two-part opening.

But while the car looks the same, a slight increase in length means its predecessor's ability to park nose or tail to the kerb is now a stretch too far.

It's the perfect city/shopping car though and a decent space-saving second car, even if prices start at almost £7,000 – the same cash buys a decent conventional four-seat supermini/city car.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

FAMILY CARS

THIS sector used to dominate the UK car market, but sales have been eroded by new categories such as the 4x4 sports utility vehicle (SUV) and MPV or 'people carrier' and encroachment by upmarket compact executive models like the BMW 3-Series, which now outsells former market leader – the Ford Mondeo. Nevertheless, many second-hand car buyers still like the idea of a spacious, comfortable and more conventional family runabout and preferably one with a hatchback, so here are three of the top sellers based on ability and value.

FORD MONDEO

ONCE the UK's favourite car, its fall from favour reflects upon changing tastes rather than its ability. The car's greatest weakness is the bonnet badge – something the latest generation car tries to overcome with Germanic quality and detail. Nevertheless, the previous car was well-built, superb to drive and incredibly spacious. Apart from the best-selling hatchback there is also a saloon and one of the roomiest and best-looking estates in the sector, plus a massive range of engines.

VAUXHALL VECTRA

MUCH of that said about the Mondeo applies to its arch rival, the Vectra. Instead of slugging it out toe-to-toe, these two old prizefighters are now back to back facing threats from other directions. The Vectra matches the Mondeo in most areas, but the Vectra is chunkier and the interior so well built that it almost intimidates. The choice of bodies echoes the Mondeo and the estate is the best load carrier in this sector thanks to a longer wheelbase.

RENAULT LAGUNA

AFTER years of failure in this sector, Renault finally hit the mark with the Laguna series. The key was conventional yet stylish looks with a hint of French chic, aggressive pricing and excellent specification and comfort levels. Where it really scores though is for engine choice, including Renault's excellent turbodiesels. Combined with excellent space and comfort it is easy to see why the Laguna is a hit with company drivers, though depreciation is a risk.

Maidstone

Kent Safe Schools have successfully secured a bid to support permanently excluded young people through alternative education. We have developed three innovative projects designed to meet the educational needs of permanently excluded Year 10/11 pupils and develop the delivery of the Alternative Curriculum Programmes within an off-school site setting.

Through providing a positive intervention strategy, we are in a position to support a number of vulnerable young people at key stage 4, both in and out of education. All young people, but particularly those who are "at risk", need to develop particular knowledge, positive behaviours and pro-social attitudes and skills if they are to benefit from school, college or training, cope positively with the developmental tasks of adolescence and take on the responsibilities of adulthood. They need to be helped to gain employment or become otherwise positively involved in society.

Supporting the Project Officer in the running of the provision, you will possess a good understanding of educational issues and experience of working with this complex and difficult to reach, client group.

This post is subject to an Enhanced Disclosure Application to the Criminal Records Bureau.

JOB TITLE: Board Member Vacancies

LOCATION:
Whitstable
SALARY:
TBA
COMPANY:
Canterbury City Council
Can you help to shape the future of Whitstable Harbour? Appointment of independent board members Whitstable Harbour lies at the heart of the attractive north Kent town of Whitstable, overlooking the Thames Estuary.

The Harbour Board was set up by the Council in 2003 to deliver a strategy for developing the harbour as a self-contained operation offering both high quality marine commercial and leisure facilities. The Harbour is a working operation comprising a basin of 0.61 hectares capable of accepting vessels of up to 3,000 tonnes. There are three quays totalling 470 metres in length together with 4 hectares of adjacent land. In 2006/07 the harbour handled over 97,000 tonnes of cargo (mainly aggregates) from 92 ships and it also has an active commercial fishing fleet. In recent years an increasing number of leisure uses have become established to complement the commercial activities and the combination has provided a vibrant focus in the town for both businesses and visitors. For the first time in many years the operation made an overall operational profit in 2006/07. The Harbour Board, which has been acknowledged as a model of best practice, comprises both elected councillors and co-opted independent members. The term of service of two of the co-opted members will finish in January 2008 and applications are invited for replacement members for a term of three years. Applicants must have an interest in public service and be committed to developing the harbour as a financially self-supporting operation while balancing potentially conflicting demands. Proven skills in marine operations, property development or finance will be particularly welcome. There are nine board meetings a year together with occasional working groups as required. Board members receive a modest allowance and appropriate expenses will be reimbursed. We expect to hold interviews in the week commencing 12 November 2007. For further information and application forms contact: Malcolm Burgess, Head of Property Services Canterbury City Council, Military Road, Canterbury CT1 1YW Phone: 01227 862 096.

Part-time 25 hours per week, term-time only. Kent Safe Schools have successfully secured a bid to support permanently excluded young people through alternative education. We have developed three innovative projects designed to meet the educational needs of permanently excluded Year 10/11 pupils and develop the delivery of the Alternative Curriculum Programmes within an off-school site setting. Through providing a positive intervention strategy, we are in a position to support a number of vulnerable young people at key stage 4, both in and out of education. All young people, but particularly those who are 'at risk', need to develop particular knowledge, positive behaviours and pro-social attitudes and skills if they are to benefit from school, college or training, cope positively with the developmental tasks of adolescence and take on the responsibilities of adulthood. They need to be helped to gain employment or become otherwise positively involved in society. Supporting the Project Officer in the running of the provision, you will possess a good understanding of educational issues and experience of working with this complex and difficult to reach, client group. This post is subject to an Enhanced Disclosure Application to the Criminal Records Bureau. For an informal discussion about this post, please contact Jim Connolly on 07740 183 931.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

New scheme to improve cross-Channel trade

BUSINESSES have been offered help with developing cross-Channel trade in a pioneering scheme.

The Transmanche Technology project aims to break down the language barriers which until now have made the French market off-limits to many companies in the county.

More than 150 companies have already signed up and IT suppliers like New Creatif, which has offices in Folkestone and Canterbury, will share their expertise with businesses through the project.

For more details on the project call Estelle Timothy on 01634 338215 or visit www.transmanche-technology.com.

Chancellor issued with warning from big four

THE UK's four main business groups have joined forces in a concerted effort to persuade the Chancellor to suspend proposals in his recent pre-Budget report to abolish Capital Gains Tax taper relief.

In an open letter to the Chancellor, the heads of the British Chambers of Commerce, CBI, Federation of Small Businesses and Institute of Directors say the government policy came 'as a bolt out of the blue'.

They felt it necessary to write because 'the reaction of their combined memberships has been so universally strong'. They claim the decision 'will be felt throughout the economy' by 'discouraging longer-term investment and risk-taking'.

Batchelors' 50th is on the menu at breakfast

CHRISSIE Rundle, of Premier Foods, will deliver a talk on the impact Batchelors has had on Ashford during its 50 years in the town next month.

The networking breakfast, organised by the Kent Invicta Chamber of Commerce, will take place at the Holiday Inn on Canterbury Road on November 8.

The discussion will include the latest success in keeping the factory open.

Cost to members is £11+VAT and £16+VAT for prospective members.

A cooked breakfast, tea, coffee and orange juice will be part of the cost for the event which runs from 7.30am to 9am.

SEASIDE VIEW: Four workshops to be held in November will bring together local councils, tourism and hospitality businesses to discuss how to market Kent's coast to a wider audience

Shifting perceptions to coastal horizons

A PUSH to promote the county's coastal towns to boost tourism and the hospitality business is underway.

According to research conducted by Kent County Council the vast majority of those quizzed now associate Kent with countryside and heritage holidays, but know little of its coastal attractions.

Now Kent Tourism, backed by the East Kent Partnership, is bringing together local councils, tourism and hospitality businesses and other organisations interested in promoting their area to discuss how to market the Kent coast to a wider audience.

Cheryl Parker, Kent Tourism's coastal project manager, is leading a series of four workshops across East Kent to encourage organisations to develop new ways of marketing the coastline to visitors.

She said: "In the past, people chose to visit specific destinations – such as Margate sands. Now visitors are making their holiday choice by the range of activities and experiences they can enjoy. This can range from walking and water sports to wining and dining."

"The challenges we face are meeting the needs of the new marketplace and accepting that neighbouring areas in East Kent are not in competition with each other to attract visitors. They all face the same competition from places such as Brighton and experience-driven destinations such as Wales and Yorkshire."

The Shifting Perceptions seminars and workshops are being held in Margate, Whitstable, Dover and Folkestone in November next month.

Fran Warrington, head of Kent Tourism said: "These workshops are directly addressing issues which have been identified by our detailed research and they are the first step in a process which will bring new life to the tourism and hospitality industry of the Kent coast."

The Coastal Kent Initiative is supported by East Kent Partnership, Kent Tourism, and Canterbury, Thanet and Dover councils.

• The Shifting Perceptions events take place at Margate's Media Centre on Kings Street on November 5; Whitstable's Horsebridge Centre on November 6; the Ramada Hotel in Whitfield, Dover on November 15; and the Grand Burstin Hotel in Folkestone on November 16.

Margate finally slain by Trinity

DANE PARK staged a tough battle between Margate and league leaders Trinity under-8s, but the visitors eventually ran out 4-0 victors.

It was the home side who nearly broke the deadlock, a big punt from the goalkeeper crashing against the post as the teams went into break on level terms.

Just after the restart, Tom Halfpenny pounced to give Trinity the advantage. Harvey Laws produced a moment of magic as he lobbed the goalkeeper from the halfway line to double the lead.

Trinity continued to surge forward and Lewis Clarke made it three before Adam Campbell added a fourth.

Hundreds race in first meeting

THE Thanet Primary Schools Cross-Country League included 640 children from 31 schools taking part in the first meeting of the year at Newington.

Emily Bond, of St Joseph's School, ran a confident race in the year three group, and won four minutes and 39 seconds ahead of Harriet Denny and Georgia Debling, of Upton.

In the boys' section, Upton took first and second, with Louis Thomas winning.

Upton won again in the year four girls' race, led by the exceptional talent of Alice Fox. Alasdair Kinloch beat 95 of his peers to win the year four boys' race, just ahead of Jordan Brett, of Upton, and Thomas Winch, of St Saviour's.

Amber Guyatt, of St Nicholas's, beat Olivia Collins in the year five race, while Harry Stannard of St Saviour's won the boys' race.

Lauren Joy of St Peter's won the year six trophy, and Upton's Matt Dolan was first home in the boys' event.

Aylesbury United 0-0 Margate

MARGATE manager Robin Trott is hoping to welcome back more players from injury over the next week and has warned there will be no stopping his side once they are at full strength.

Gate were due to play in a reply against Aylesbury United in the FA Trophy last night after a 0-0 draw in Buckinghamshire on Sunday.

Margate took to the field with Dean Standen in the line-up for the first time in eight games and it quickly became apparent that his partnership with the returning Steve McKimm was something that had been sorely missed in recent weeks.

Also missing from the weekend's game was Trott, who was more than delighted to take his place in the dugout and command things from the touchline.

The tie produced the visitors' first clean sheet in four games and just the fourth so far this season. However, despite not conceding a goal, Margate failed to find a breakthrough at the other end.

Jimmy Jackson and Rob Haworth each had two chances in the first half, while long-range efforts from Ben Stevens and Kevin Meador were all that Aylesbury had to offer.

In the second half, Meador had another free-kick from distance that Chalmers-Stevens saved comfortably.

Nathan Graham then forced a good save from the Gate keeper and Phillip Nugent could have snatched a win for the home side late in the game. For Margate, Haworth and Charlie Side both had chances but couldn't find the target.

Margate have been suffering with a number of injuries this season and Trott has lost players to work commitments, while others on loan have been called back by their clubs.

Trott said: "I think the club is moving on massively and on the field we are doing OK. We started off quite well, pretty much the same as last year, which I guess tells a story. Once everyone is back, there will be stopping us."

"It is great working for Margate and it is a real pleasure working with the players."

The return of striker Rob Haworth has been a big boost for Trott, who was impressed with the performances of skipper Jay Saunders and Charley Side.

He said: "Some old faces have done really well for us. Rob Haworth has been brilliant and Charley Side has really come on, although he still needs to keep working hard. Dean Standen was outstanding for us before he got his injury, so I am delighted he has returned."

Margate got back to winning ways in the Ryman Premier League last Tuesday, beating Leyton 2-1 at Hartsdown Park.

Late rally fails to secure Thanet first points

NOT ENOUGH: Thanet scored two late tries, but they narrowly lost out to Portsmouth

TWO late tries were not enough for Thanet to pick up their first points of the season as they lost their sixth league game in a row.

Despite the welcome return of Pieter Slabbert, Thanet were unfortunate not to take an early lead from a Gareth Redmond penalty, but a difficult kick out on the touchline went just wide of the posts.

Portsmouth came straight back at Thanet and their forward drive allowed Conrad Dent to score the first try of the game.

Wanderers were unlucky not to score just before half-time when their forward drive was stopped by what looked like foul play by Portsmouth but was missed by the referee.

RUGBY

Thanet Wanderers 12
Portsmouth 19

Portsmouth made a storming start to the second half, full-back Jon Wood touching down under the posts.

Then, straight from the kick-off, Portsmouth again capitalised as one of their forwards went over for the third try of the game.

Both tries were converted by fly-half Sid Claffey.

Thanet almost turned the game on its head in the last 20 minutes with two superb tries. After a period of good play by the forwards, they drove over the Portsmouth line, Bradley Teale coming up with the ball. Slabbert's conversion bid went just wide.

Thanet then applied pressure to Portsmouth's defence, resulting in a turnover by Tom Ash. He released Peter Macaulay from 60 metres out and with typical panache he ran the try in under the posts. Slabbert converted with ease, leaving the score at 19-12 with just injury time to play.

From the kick-off, Thanet had Portsmouth on the back foot but were turned over and the referee called an end to the game after Portsmouth found touch.

The Wanderers are next in action on Saturday at home to Basingstoke.

Rams caught cold in trophy defeat

Ramsgate 2-3 Horsham

RAMSGATE'S late battle to save their FA Trophy dreams were shattered by an excellent performance by Horsham's goalkeeper.

The Rams were 2-0 down at half-time, despite having seven shots on target compared with Horsham's two.

The home side started the better of the two teams and Steffan Ball had a great chance to open the scoring in the second minute, but he shot over the bar from two yards.

Horsham opened the scoring in the sixth minute when Simon Austin beat Olly Schulz to a low header that went in the back of the net.

Ramsgate were the more dominant side and, as the half-hour approached, Ball went through with just the keeper to beat, but again Alan Mansfield denied the Rams.

Against the run of play, a 25-yard strike from Jacob Mingle flew into the top left corner to make it 2-0 on 31 minutes.

The Rams had two penalty appeals waved away, but it was goalkeeper Paul Wilkerson who went closest when his deep free-kick just inside the Horsham half dropped over the bar.

After the break, Rams continued to chase the game and as a result with 20 minutes to go Horsham sub Chamal Fenelon made it 3-0.

The players didn't give up, as boss Jim Ward made changes, bringing on Scott Holden for Warren Schulz and Danny Wisker for Sam Vallance. Ramsgate finally pulled one back when Lee Minshull's cross was headed in by Shaun Welford with nine minutes remaining.

Rams grabbed another when Dan Dolton's cross was finished by Welford for his second of the game and then the Thanet side should have forced a replay on 90 minutes, but Holden's shot hit the post.

HARD-FOUGHT: Cliftonville played out a draw with BBHC

Battling Ville forced to settle for a draw

A CLOSE encounter between Cliftonville and London outfit BBHC ended in an entertaining draw.

Ville had a superb start to both halves but were unable to play consistently well.

BBHC took an early lead, but Ville fought back to take a 2-1 advantage through goals from Alex Taylor and a deflection from Mark Tiley.

The last 10 minutes were evenly matched, but BBHC managed to score an equaliser. Ville came close to winning the game, but Tiley's flick was disallowed due to a technical infringement.

Cliftonville III lost out to Burnt Ash IV in a closely-fought match, with the Thanet side eventually going down 2-1.

After much hard work, Ville were rewarded with a penalty flick which was converted by Nic Alder to bring the scores level.

As hard as Ville tried, they could not get things to come together on the day and were disappointed when a short corner was converted by the opposition after some sloppy play inside the area. Ville will be hoping to do better next week against Anchorians.

The Ladies II started their game against Old Anchorians with a certain amount of trepidation but after 10 minutes were in full swing.

With Old Anchorians playing an aggressive game, Ville stood their ground and were able to attack, thanks to some brilliant work from the Ville midfield.

In the second half, Ville showed great determination and after 20 minutes of the half took the lead through Kerry Constantine's superb goal from a short corner.

Ville had to defend short corners and 10 minutes later Old Anchorians scored an equaliser.
